On our website www.forcecertification.com we have published an informative guide describing the certification process. This guide gives a broader understanding of the process, and a guide to the information which shall be available. The informative guide cannot replace the requirements described in this ABC.

Issued certificates are the property of FORCE Certification UK Limited (FCUK).

In this ABC a certified customer is the company, whose management system has been certified.

2. GENERAL

The preliminary certification audit of a management system shall be carried out in two steps: Stage 1 and Stage 2.

The customer shall in due time before audit be notified of the names of the audit team and, when requested, receive available background information on each member of the audit team, so the client could object to the appointment of any member.

The customer shall:

- establish the necessary data to determine the extent of the certification (e.g., use our application forms see www.forcecertification.com).
- supply our audit team with information which enables it to ascertain whether the customer’s management system has been documented in accordance with current requirements.
- give the audit team access to facilities, personnel, and records in order that the audit team can verify that the customers management system has been established and maintained.
- co-operate with the audit team when handling non-conformities.

FORCE Certification UK Limited is appointed as Approved with identification no. XXXX and are accredited by UKAS according to the requirements in EN ISO 17065. UKAS is a member of European Accreditation–EA.

- before the stage 2 visit collect information from relevant authorities concerning agreements and outstanding conditions relevant for the certification.
- at the stage 2 visit present documents, which concern any agreements, authorizations, approvals, obligations, prohibitions, supervision reports and any outstanding conditions relevant for the certification.
- update and maintain management system documentation in accordance with the certification requirements. This documentation shall be document managed.
- must ensure that the audit can be carried out in a fully safe manner in accordance with the rules of the working environment legislation as well as possible local company procedures and precautions.

If FCUK assesses that, especially during a review of the production, it is not possible to carry out an audit properly in accordance with the rules of the working environment legislation, the audit will be postponed until the conditions are safe.

If the company has special guidelines that must be followed - e.g., the use of special clothing, safety equipment or requires special training, this must be notified and agreed prior to audit.

3. PREMATURELY TERMINATION OF AUDIT

If FCUK's Lead Auditor or Certification Manager finds that the presented information is not sufficient to continue the process, the audit can be prematurely terminated. The client must cover FCUKs costs (manpower and travel) up to the written termination.

4. SURVEILLANCE VISITS

To maintain the certification FCUK shall make regular surveillance visits at least once annually. The frequency will appear from the certification agreement.

FCUK gives the customer notice at least 2 weeks before a surveillance visit. The visit is carried out according to plan prepared by FCUK and includes selected parts of the overall requirements.

If FCUK notices conditions that require a further surveillance visit, such a visit may be held at short notice.

5. RECERTIFICATION

FCUK contacts the customer before the expiry date of the certificate so the recertification visit can be planned at least 3 months before the expiry date.

6. NON-CONFORMITIES, REMARKS AND PROBLEM AREAS

Documentation for the customer's handling of given non-conformities/remarks/problem areas shall be forwarded to FCUK within an established time frame.

Corrections and corrective actions shall be carried out and verified within 90 days after non-conformities/ remarks/problem areas have been informed by FCUK.

In case the verification cannot take place within 90 days FCUK has the right to carry out a new evaluation, which can include a visit at the customer's premises.

7. POSTPONEMENT OR CANCELLATION OF AUDIT VISITS

If the company postpones or cancels a scheduled audit, monitoring audit or recertification visit less than 4 weeks from the first day of the agreed certification dates, FCUK reserves the right to invoice 20% of the price for the certification to cover administrative costs and possible already work done. If a visit is cancelled less than 2 weeks from the first day of the agreed certification dates, FCUK reserves the right to invoice the full amount.

8. MODIFICATION OF THE CUSTOMER'S MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

If the customer continuously or seriously does not meet the certification requirements to the relevant parts of the scope FCUK will limit the scope to omit the parts that do not meet the requirements.

A certification agreement including the Multiple Site principle cannot be reduced by omitting one or more areas. A new agreement must be made.

Immediately after the information about withdrawal the customer's management system certification is invalid.
